AMTESOL was founded in 1982, and membership is open to everyone interested in and/or involved in the teaching and administration of programs in English as a second or foreign language. In Mississippi we have members from various intensive English programs and public school systems in places such as Hattiesburg, Starkville, and Oxford. In Alabama our members include ESL professionals from all over the state such as Mobile, Montgomery, Tuscaloosa, Huntsville, Birmingham, Gadsden, and numerous places in-between.

AMTESOL strives to serve the needs of intensive program teachers, administrators, graduate students, and K-12 teachers in the field of ESL. Historically speaking, AMTESOL provided one of the few opportunities for ESL professionals in Alabama and Mississippi to receive local support, professional development, and opportunities to share ideas and experience. Today, AMTESOL strives to continue this service in combination with support programs that may already be in place. Over the years, members of AMTESOL have emphasized that one of the greatest benefits of membership is the connections made in the field of ESL, many of which have endured for years.

AMTESOL’s Mission:

- To collect and disseminate useful information about teaching English as a second language.
- To provide opportunities for interaction among ESL professionals.
- To identify and address TESOL problems of local, regional, and national concern.
- To stimulate professional development within the TESOL institutions of the area.
- To promote and actively support programs in local communities that will improve the teaching of English as a second language at all levels of education.
- To advocate for the recognition of the specialized nature of the TESOL profession on the local, state, and national levels.
Welcome to the 2016 AMTESOL conference! Our theme this year, “Language Learning Destination: Charting New Horizons” invites us to think about our students, our classrooms, and our own professional development. We are so happy to have an opportunity to learn and network at the wonderful Perdido Beach Resort in Orange Beach, Alabama. We welcome new and returning AMTESOL participants, and hope this weekend gives you new perspectives, engaging activities, and useful ideas to continue charting new horizons for pursuing language learning destinations.

Our conference chair Susan Spezzini, along with many of her colleagues and volunteers, have planned two days packed full of many excellent speakers and useful workshops. Our pre-conference workshops on Friday morning will offer participants opportunities to learn more about building professional communities, providing equitable instruction for all learners, enriching the language and literacy of young learners, and visiting a local newcomer program. We look forward to the outstanding keynote speaker, Dr. Mark Algren, who will be speaking after dinner on Friday evening. The breakout sessions scheduled Friday afternoon and Saturday morning have been carefully selected to provide you with the necessary tools to continue charting new horizons and language learning destinations.

I hope you will join us for our annual AMTESOL business meeting on Saturday morning at 8:00 AM. During this meeting, you will have a chance to hear from the members of the Executive Board and learn more about AMTESOL. We encourage you to come and get involved in this organization whose mission is to serve all professionals who serve English learners in Alabama and Mississippi.

If you have questions or need assistance please let us know.

Have an excellent conference!

Sincerely,
Amy Taylor

Workshop A: Building and Engaging Your Professional Community with Dr. Mark Algren
Ballroom ABC

Mark Algren has been an ESL/EFL teacher and program administrator since 1979. In addition to over 20 years of university work in the United States, he has spent 14 years teaching and directing intensive English programs in Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, and also one year teaching in Hong Kong. He now serves as the director of the University of Missouri Center for English Language Learning.

Overview:

- Exploring needs in your teaching environment and evaluating available resources
- Identifying access to support and establish local and global networks
- Outlining short-term and long-term professional plans
- Accessing professional development opportunities
- Accomplishing goals without adequate funding

What is a professional community? How can a professional community help you? How can you connect with such a community? Where do you reach out? What resources are available? This workshop will offer answers to these and other questions.

In this workshop, you will learn how to build and engage in a professional community limited only by the time and effort you are able to contribute. Based on digital communication crossing multiple borders (geographic, linguistic, and cultural), professional communities nurture yearlong engagement with colleagues, distant peers, and the leaders of our profession.

Like a network of friends and family, your professional community will suggest ideas and insights. Well-phrased questions in a discussion group, either face-to-face or virtual, will bring solutions for challenges that you have never before encountered. Prolific search terms will provide you with quick access to a wealth of information. On-line courses, increasingly free, will expand your skills and knowledge. Furthermore, professional organizations, such as TESOL International and AMTESOL, will enhance your advocacy efforts at local, regional, and even global levels.

The best place to start building your professional community is at a conference, such as AMTESOL, where the gathering of like minds is an exhilarating experience! And, by attending this workshop, you will become empowered to continue engaging in your new professional community after the conference ends!
Workshop B:
Response to Instruction/Intervention for English Learners:
Overcoming Obstacles
with Tery Medina
Ballroom E

Tery J. Medina is currently the Associate Director for the Southeastern Equity Center. She holds an M.S. degree in Diagnostic Teaching with a minor in Bilingual Education, and an M.A.Ed. in Administration and Supervision with a minor in TESOL. Ms. Medina has a wide range of experience. She has been a teacher of the Learning Disabled, Gifted, Pre-K, Elementary and Adult ESOL. As an adjunct instructor, she has taught courses in ESL Methodology, Curriculum Development, Bilingualism, Cross-Cultural Issues, and English. She has delivered training and technical assistance to numerous State Departments of Education, Community Based Organizations, Local Education Agencies, and other professional groups in the areas of Cross-cultural/ Multicultural Education, Equal/Equitable Education, The Hispanic Cultures, Human Relations, Special Education, Parental and Community Involvement, and Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages.

Targeted Audience: Those who have an interest in RtI, educators in all areas, Special Education personnel and team members, specialists who contribute to instructional choices for students, administrators who oversee/make educational and placement decisions.

Overview:

- Expanding current knowledge of RtI
- Dispelling myths and misconceptions about RtI
- Discussing the tiers in RtI
- Comparing and contrasting services for ELs
- Effecting change

Come and participate - not just “sit and get”- in this session which will boost and shed light on your knowledge and background of RtI.

The most important point to understand about RtI is that it is NOT a referral for special education services. It IS an instructional service delivery model founded on two key premises:

- All children can learn when provided with appropriate, effective instruction.
- Most academic difficulties can be prevented with early identification of need followed by immediate intervention.

RtI uses a multi-tiered structure of increasingly intensive and focused instruction and intervention for serving the needs of students with academic or behavioral concerns. Come join this opportunity to understand, ask questions and grow your RtI dendrites!
Workshop C:

Effective Reading Instruction for English Learners in Kindergarten through 2nd Grade with Dr. Kelly Hill

Ballroom D

Dr. Kelly Hill currently teaches at UAB where she is Assistant Professor for English Learner Education and Project Manager on a national professional development grant. Before coming to UAB, Dr. Hill taught ESL courses in the Elementary/Early Childhood Education program at Auburn University. Prior to entering higher education, Dr. Hill had worked for 12 years as a K-12 educator teaching 3rd grade and kindergarten, providing reading intervention, and serving as a literacy coach.

Targeted audience: Teachers in all Pre-K to 2nd grade contexts; Reading Interventionists; Literacy Coaches; Administrators; Curriculum Directors; and also Reading, Early Childhood, and ESL Faculty.

Overview:

- Empowering young readers with language and literacy enrichment rather than deficit model intervention programs
- Fostering positive identity, agency, and autonomy as readers
- Implementing practical classroom strategies for reading instruction
- Selecting appropriate texts for reading instruction

An enrichment approach to language and literacy will be discussed. Attendees will come to understand the importance of empowering young readers by helping them build strong identities, developing a sense of agency, and providing opportunities for successful independence. Practical classroom strategies will be suggested for effective reading instruction for primary readers. Session attendees will learn how to keep foundational skills in context, connect literacy experiences from whole group, small group, partner work, and independent reading within the classroom. Finally, teachers will learn to evaluate texts and make sound decisions for selecting appropriate books for reading instruction for young emergent bilingual learners.
Workshop D:
Site Visit: Newcomer Center for High School ELs,
South Baldwin Center for Technology
Robertsdale, AL
(bus departs 8:15 from hotel)

Goal: Enhance ELs’ College and Career Readiness

This site visit takes place at Baldwin County’s Newcomer Center for English learners, which is located at the South Baldwin Center for Technology (SBCT) in Robertsdale, AL. Participants will visit sheltered instruction classes and also meet with the Center’s ESL teachers who are all certified in both ESL and their content area. These teachers use sheltered instruction techniques to provide credit-bearing content courses to ELs, who are mostly at beginning and intermediate levels of English. Bussed from their respective schools, these ELs take from one to three classes at the SBCT, depending on what they need. Sheltered classes are offered in algebra, geometry, history, and English literature. Heritage Spanish courses are provided to Spanish-speaking ELs, former ELs, and NOMPHLOTES in order to enhance their college and career readiness, especially for introducing them to the principles and practices of professional translation and interpretation. Also available are differentiated ESL classes targeted for ELs at various English levels. This Newcomer Center started 10 years ago with a single class taken by 6 ELs. Today, Baldwin County’s Newcomer Center consists of 60 students, 7 classes, and 5 teachers.

Carrie Barrigan, Algebra/Geometry teacher (Cert: Class B in Math & Spanish; Class A in ESOL)
Debbie Frey, History Teacher (Cert: Class A in Social Science; Class A in ESOL)
Alissa Murphy, English literature teacher (Cert: Class B in ELA; Class A in ESOL)
Patricia Rosales, Spanish heritage language teacher (Cert: Class B in Spanish and ESOL)
Amy Stutts, ESL Teacher (Cert: Class B in Elementary, ELA, Health; Class A in Psychometry & ESOL)
Workshop E:
State Leaders Academy – Effectively Serving English Learners

The School Leaders Academy will provide school and district leaders with knowledge and tools to effect positive change for leading teachers, counselors, and staff towards more effectively serving English learners and their families while complying with state and federal law. Following a site visit on Friday morning led by Kendall Mowdy, principal of the South Baldwin Center for Technology, and Kathy Nichol, Baldwin County Schools EL Supervisor, participants will attend School Leaders Academy strand presentations on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

The School Leaders Academy has been approved by the Alabama Council for Leadership Development (ACLD) for meeting the Alabama Standard for Instructional Leader, Standard #4, Diversity and, as such, participants may earn a PLU credit for renewing administrator certification. This Academy is being offered by AMTESOL in collaboration with UAB’s Regional In-Service Center. Participating administrators must enroll on the ALSDE’s STI-PD for PLUCLD367 “Effectively Serving English Learners.”

The School Leaders Academy has also been approved by the Mississippi Department of Education (MDE) for administrators seeking to earn SEMI credit.

Pre-requisite: Participants must hold instructional leader certification for grades K-12.

BALLROOM
This is a game show, hosted annually by Bill Wallace at AMTESOL. Everyone joins a team and has lots of fun. No knowledge of music is required, and prizes are awarded.
TESOL professionals change lives. That’s a high calling, and we have a responsibility to adhere our duties as a profession. In the 50 years since the founding of TESOL International, we have made great strides in building up our field; however, we continue to struggle for the respect accorded to our peers. Even though we carry a sacred public trust as teachers, we also must engage in advocacy to educate others about our profession and our commitment, and how we change lives.

Mark Algren has been an ESL/EFL teacher and program administrator since 1979. In addition to over 20 years of university work in the United States, he has spent 14 years teaching in and directing intensive English programs in Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, and teaching for a year in Hong Kong. He currently directs the University of Missouri Center for English Language Learning. He has been active in TESOL International as a presenter at conferences, author, and member of interest sections, standing committees and the Board of Directors (including convention chair for TESOL 2003-Baltimore). He was the TESOL President in 2009-2010. Over the years, he has made over 100 invited, juried, keynote and featured speaker presentations in 18 countries on 4 continents. With a strong interest in professionalism, standards and accreditation, he has served on the TESOL Professional Development Committee and on a task force to develop the self-study guide for international review for CEA (Commission on English Language Program Accreditation) and is a program site reviewer for CEA. Outside of work, he enjoys spending time with his family and friends, reading, travelling, and baking.

The Southeastern Equity Center has provided technical assistance and training to the 8 southeastern states of Region IV for more than 50 years – serving school districts in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

The Southeastern Equity Center is committed to assisting and strengthening the work of schools, school districts, and states to work in partnership with parents, businesses, communities, and government agencies, in order to ensure that the diverse needs of all learners are met through system-wide and school-wide research-based reforms that provide equity for all students.

The clear challenge for school districts and states is to create, build, and sustain culturally-responsive environments that provide equal access to a high standard of educational success for all students. The Southeastern Equity Center is prepared to assist the school districts and states of Region IV in meeting this challenge.

If you represent a state, school district, or public school in Region IV and would like to discuss how the Southeastern Equity Center might assist you, you may contact us as follows:

Easy English NEWS is a useful tool in teaching complex concepts and ideas to English language learners. It doesn’t “talk down” to students and it covers topics that are vital to an educated citizenry.

Children at the border*

In the past nine months, more than 60,000 children have crossed the border between Mexico and the United States. More children will be coming here.

Most of these children are from Honduras, Guatemala, and El Salvador. Many of these young people traveled 3,000 miles alone; some were as young as three. Some are very dangerous people. Some children fall off the train. Some are afraid to cross the border. Some children have seen the United States on television. These parents paid thousands of dollars to “coyotes” (illegal agents) to bring their children across the border.

The children and parents entered the United States illegally. Many arrived in Texas. They went to the Border Patrol. They asked for asylum in the United States.

A humanitarian* crisis

The U.S. government was not prepared for this sudden rush of illegal immigrants. It became a humanitarian crisis. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services set up a special center to hold the large numbers of immigrants.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has supplied food, water, and shelter. Many of these children are heavy in custody.

Life in the U.S.A.
What comes after high school?

The last year of high school is a busy time for students. They have decisions to make. Should they go to a job? Should they go to college? Should they go to technical school? What are the options for high school graduates?

High school diploma is important. Colleges, the military, and many training programs require a high school diploma. Students can also take a General Education Development (GED) test. Many colleges accept the GED as equal to a high school diploma.

Career* Day
On career day, people in different occupations* come to school to talk about their jobs. This helps students make choices about their own careers in the future.
